APPLICATION CHECKLIST

4/7 steps

How this works

Follow all 7 steps before submitting. Most applicants skip steps 3–5 — that's exactly how you beat them. Step 5 (referral) is the highest-leverage action: your CV gets seen by a human, ATS is bypassed, and many companies offer referral bonuses to employees when a referred candidate gets hired — so your contact is genuinely motivated to help you.

Application locked until steps 1–5 are complete. Don't skip the process.

KNOW THE ROLE

Step 1 — Confirm You Qualify

Check the track for this role in Career Roadmap. Focus on Track 1 (Your Move) — your strongest matches with high goal alignment. Track 2 (Plan B) roles are also strong fits worth applying to. Track 3 (Work Toward) roles need more skill-building before applying — wait or close the gap first.

Step 2 — Dissect the Job Description

Paste the JD in the 'Target Role' tab. Identify the 3 core responsibilities, 3 must-have skills, tools required, and seniority signals. Know this role better than other applicants.

BUILD YOUR CASE

Step 3 — Tailor Your CV to This Role

Go to the 'CV' tab. Rewrite your bullets to mirror the JD language. Move your most relevant experience to the top. A generic CV gets ignored — a tailored one gets calls.

Step 4 — Map Proof for Every Skill

Go to the 'Skills' tab. For each required skill, attach a project, course, or experience as evidence. Interviewers will ask — have an answer ready before you even apply.

Step 5 — Find & Reach Out for a ReferralHIGH IMPACT

Go to the 'Networking' tab. Find 2+ people at this company on LinkedIn. A referral gets your CV seen by a human, skips ATS filtering, and — crucially — many companies offer referral bonuses to employees when a candidate they refer gets hired — so they're genuinely motivated to help you.

APPLY & PREP

Step 6 — Submit the Application

Only apply after all 5 steps above are done. Submitting early without prep is the #1 reason candidates get rejected. Go to the 'Application' tab to log the submission date and CV version used.

Step 7 — Prepare for the Interview

Go to the 'Interview' tab. Review likely questions, prep STAR-format answers, and research the company. Most candidates wing it — this is how you stand out.
